Fourteen days later from Europe.

Arrival of the Acadia. The Acadia, Capt. Ryrie, arrived at Boston on Tuesday evening, having left Liverpool on the afternoon of the 19th ult., thus bringing dates fourteen days later than had been before received. The following letter from our London correspondent gives a clear and brief summary of the general intelligence:

SUMMARY OF EUROPEAN NEWS.

STATE OF THE MARKETS AND GENERAL PROSPECTS.. THE LAST PARLIAMENT ... THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO FRANCE AND BELGIUM ... SPANISH AFFAIRS.

LONDON, Sept. 17, 1843. Messrs. Editors: The general improvement (which mentioned in my last letter had been felt in all branches of timde.) has continued with increased activity, and some advance in prices. In the Colonial Market the transactions have been moderate, but with firm prices, and holders ask an advance, which buyers seem inclined to give, especially in Foreign Sugars and Coffees, for which there is some mand. There have been heavy speculations in Brandy at an advance of price; other Spirits are looking up. Hides have been bought freely at a considerable advance in prices. Silks and other East India Goods are also in favor, and prices, especially of the former, have gone up. Cotton fully maintains its price, with moderate sales. There is now a steady demand from the manufacturers, who still buy with caution Most of the Cotton said to be purchased on speculation is only held for the turn of the market, and not for a heavy advance, which is not looked for; nor could it be realized .-The Woolen trade is very active, and the heavy stocks of the raw material are decressing at improved prices. The Iron trade has experienced a slight revival, and an advance of £1 per ton has been obtained. The whole of the manufacturing interests may be said to participate in the general improve ment of trade. The harvest, which is now secure beyond all doubt, is more than an average. Most of the Foreign Grain in bond was disposed of at a moderate duty, and the stock is now very small. The present price and the high duty will prevent any extensive foreign importations, except at very low cash prices. Money is very abundant; the Bank of England is glutted with specie, and though the increased confidence in commercial matters has employed a large per centage of the dormant capital, yet there is a very large amount seeking safe investment; but the continued caution shown by the capitalists in all transactions is a check upon speculation; and this is highly necessary, for the country is swarming with schemes of all nations, who are daily proposing all sorts of bubbles. But the time for their game has not yet arrived. People are yet feeling the smart of the delinquent debtors on your side, and the rascality daily experienced in the management of railroads and such description of stock in this country so severely, that to swallow any new scheme it must be well gilded. The Patent Office is overdone with business, and Patent Agents are making fortunes.

ture who are now amusing themselves in the country, after a session as profitless to the country as discreditable to themselves. A paltry opposition continued night after night to ministerial measures on one side, and a cold indifference to the wants and claims of the nation on the other, are the distinguishing features of the British Parliament for 1843. Her Majesty Queen Victoria, accompanied by her consort, having visited the King of the French at his country palace at Eu, where she was received with much kindness and treated with all that gallantry which distinguishes the French nation, has since visited her uncle the King of the Belgians, and is now at Brussels, whence she returns to-morrow. In the course of these excursions she has visited the principal sea-ports of the Channel with her steam yacht, which is a magnificent vessel, accompanied by a fleet of vessels of war steamships and yachts. The visit to France has been a subject of much and violent discussion among the French editors, some of whom profess to be convinced that the visit was political, and with the intention of overreaching Louis Philippe in matters affecting treat es of commerce between the two countries. The Earl of Aberdeen, who accompanied the Queen, is certainly a clever and able statesman, but as to overreaching the King of the French it would need a very extraordinary man to do that. How, ever, in spite of Editors and malcontents in France, much will be gained by this exchange of civilities between the sovereigns of two rival countries. It will promote a social intercourse between the nations, which will soften down national differences, and promote the cause of peace and general improvement. Spain is still distracted and torn to pieces by civil war. Barcelona is beseiged and the foreign Consuls have taken refuge on board the men-of-war in the harbor. Much blood has been already spilt, and it is to be feared that this is only the commencement of a frightful state of anarchy and destruction. Espartero is in England, living very quietly, receiving only his private friends. There has been also an attempt at revolutionizing the Italian States, but it has been for the present put down by the foreign troops in the pay of the Pope. The rest of Europe is quiet. The Rebecca riots in Wales, are still continued; but the character of the actors has altered for the worst-from redressers of crying and unjustifiable grievances they have become incendiaries and murderers. Every exertion is making to remove the grievances and to punish the rioters, but the Government are very blameable for their apathy. Father Max-THEW is still doing his good work with great success, whilst his countryman the great Dan, is also doing his work in the way of rent; but as there have been matters of so much more interest before the public, he has been almost forgotten except by his own tail and his victims.

I remain, Sirs, yours obd'ly, The most striking news by this arrival is that of the burning of the U. S. steam frigate Missoui, which went out to carry Mr. Cushing, our Flenipotentiary to China, to the Mediterranean. The fire caught from spirits of turpentine, which ran down from the upper rooms into the engine room, on the 26th of August, while the vessel was taking in coal at Gibraltar. The alarm was given, the drum sounded and the men repaired to quarters. Assistance came from town and from an English seventy-four which was lying there. The fire was once or twice checked, but renewed its force and defied resistance. Fearing an explosion, the English officers withdrew and were followed by all who had come from shore to the assistance of the Missouri. The flames continuing to spread, the captain held a consultation with his officers, called the men together, and gave the order to save themselves by buoys until assistance caree. The Gibraltar Chronicle says that the order a mil discipline on board during the fire were most a dmirable and perfect. Mr. Cushing removed his papers at an early stage of the fire, and then ret urned and labored with the rest in endeavoring to extinguish the flames. He left on the 7th ult. in the English steamer for Alexandria. The officer s and crew lost every thing they had except the clothes they wore.

The Queen and Pr. ince Albert remained about a week at the Chateau i d' Eu. On the 7th ult. they returned to Bri gh, on and thence departed on a visit to Belgium. The Duke of Wellington visted them at Dover. They were received at Ostend by the King of the Belgians. The Queen's failure to visit Paris excited some discontent among the people of that, metropolis who were anxious to pay her t'heir respects. Her visit to France seems to have been remarkably well-timed

The disturbances in South Wales are increasing The people labor under oppressive grievances; excessive rents, the tithes, poor farms, bad agriculture, a lack of legal redress for wrongs suffered, in addition to the toll-gate grievance, stimulate the addition to the toll-gate grievance, stimulate the form an important portion of the History of our Country for the last thirty years, and are interesting to all classes of people to violence and outrage. As winter approaches, their sufferings will become more intense, and fearful scenes are anticipated.

In Ireland the Repeal agitation still continues. Mr. O'Connell speaks, at every meeting, of the Queen's Speech, insisting that it is to be regarded as the Speech of her Ministers, and condemning, in the most emphatic terms, its imputations upon the loyalty of the Irish people. He assures his repealers that he is working out his plan for a Parliament in detail. He promises to have a Protective Society' of 300 sitting before Christmas, and says he hopes to give them, as a New Year's Gift, a Parliament in College Green. He promises them riddance from the Church, and denounces the acts of their landlords in forcing their children to attend Protestant Schools. He repeats his assaults upon Bennett of the New-York Herald, 'whom,' says the Times, 'he has followed up with a malevolence almost fiendish.' The Repeal rent continues to flow in. Daniel O'Connell, Jr. addressed a Repeal Meeting at Liverpool. After he had spoken, a band of Orange-men (Irish) attacked the Repealers with bludgeons, and a general and bloody fight succecded, in which the assailants were worsted.

The Erebus, Capt. Sig John Ross; and the Terror, Com. F. R. Crozier, have returned from their Exploring Voyage to the South Seas.

Some sensation has been caused by the report of an alleged criminal intimacy between Lord Cardigan and Lady W. Paget. The Limerick Chronicle says, that Lord Cardigan denies most emphatically the charge of dishonor toward Lady P., and says he will show on the trial which her husband has instituted, that there is a foul conspiracy against him and Lord W. P. It is said that a man was placed under the sofa, who has given the information which has led to the unfortunate imputation.

A portion of the English press has given currency to a report that Sir Robert Peel was seriously indisposed. There is no foundation what. ever for the statement. Sir Robert Peel is in the full enjoyment of health.

Louis Philippe is about to form a collection at Eu, of thirty pictures, to be entitled the Victoria Gallery, each of which is to represent some scene connected with the visit of Queen Victoria. On the 5th inst, a duel with swords took place

At Baden, on Monday, a duel took place between M. de Goler, an officer in the Baden service, and M. Verifken, an officer in the Russian service. They fought at six paces with pistols. M. Verifken was shot dead, and M. de Goler received a ball in the chest.

THE WILD CHERRY IS OUR PANACEA for all affections of the Lungs and Liver.—Listen to the proof:

Haddonnetted, N. J. April 20, 1643.

On or about the 13th day of October, 1841, I was taken with a violent pain in the side near the liver, which continued about five days, and was followed by the breaking of an ulcer or absects inwardly, which relieved the pain a little, but caused me to throw up a great quantity of offensive matter, and also much blood. Being greatly alarmed at this, I applied to a physician, but he said he could do but little for me except to give mesome MERCURY Fills, which I refused to take. Many other remedies were then procured by mg wife and friends, but none did me any good. The discharge of blood and corruption still continued, every few days, till at last it became so offensive that I could scarcely breathe. I was also seized with a violent cough which at times caused me to raise much more blood than before. My disease still grew worse till February, when all hopes of recovery were given up, and my friends all thought I must die of a galloping Consumption.

At this time, when apparently my life was drawing near its close, I heard of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and got a bottle, which relieved me immediately, and by the use of only three bottles of this medicine all my pains were removed; my cough and spitting of blood and corruption entirely stoped, and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enable me to work at my trade, (that of a carpenter,) and my to this time I have enjoved good health.

REEDICATED LOZENGES!

DETERS VEGETABLE PILLS have now been in general use more than ten years, and the public, taught their value by experience of their wonderful curative properties, have accorded to them a celebrity unparalleled in the history of medical science in this or any other country.—
Testimonials of cures from every quarter of the Union, and from individuals in every condition of life, are their credentials, and unless thousands of respectable men have voluntarily entered into a conspiracy to deceive their fellow citizens, these preparations act upon the human system in a manner little short of miraculous.

We are told by a certain class of empirics, who understand nothing of the functions of the vital organs, and are ignorant, probably, of their relative positions, that medicine acts immediately upon the blood; as if it could pass into the veins without the necessary digestive process which all digestible matter which enters into the stomach must undergo.

PETERS VEGETABLE PILLS and CATHARTIC LOZENGES do indeed PURIFY THE BLOOD, but it is by purifying the chyle, bile, and all other fluids from which blood is generated. In all cases of dyspepsia, cholic, jaundice, flatulence, heart-burn, diseases penuliar to females, diarrhea—in short, in all complaints or affections of the stomach, liver or intestines, they will effect a cure when all other medicines that participants and the proofs to exhibit to all who wish to investigate them.
